There will be a meeting in the Lincoln club rooms on Pearl street, Monday evening, September 12, to organize a fourth ward republican club.

There will be a public meeting of the Political Equality club this afternoon at the home of Mrs. W. H. Hyde, No. 303 West Bridge street.

Miss Alice Finn of Carleton street accompanied T. J. Finn of the Montreal Gazette, returned from a trip to White Mountains yesterday.

Mrs. Clara Parmore of Germantown, Pa., is the guest of the family of Anthony Schmidt at No. 275 West Fulton street.

Vice Commander of United Friends will give a pedro party at his hall at the corner West Bridge and Scribner streets this evening.

A. C. Newell, who recently graduated at the university, will take a position as teacher in the high school at Pueblo, Col.

The board of education will meet tonight to canvass the election returns. The new board will meet Saturday night.

Important matters will be considered at the monthly meeting of the Press club, which will be held this evening.

Furniture is being purchased for the Hotel Cadillac, Detroit, by R. A. Gravia, who is in the city for that purpose.

Pictures of Jacob Gunder and Abraham Lincoln adorn the walls of the republican county committee.

A. Y. Lindsay, of Cincinnati, Ohio, traveling agent for the U. S. R. & I. R., was in the city yesterday.

The democratic nominee for state treasurer, Frederick R. Marvin, paid the city a visit yesterday.

Mrs. Charles Peck who has been visiting her parents in this city returned to Detroit yesterday.

A small amount of cash was taken from the office of the Germania Sunday night.

A. H. Chilver denies that he is a member of the Patriotic Sons of America.

The Unity Congregational will hold a basket picnic at Bailey's grove next Friday.

A meeting will soon be called to organize a young men's republican club. W. R. Matheson will leave Saturday for Chicago to learn new tactics.

reference to the work of the proposed committee: "We would suggest that the work of this body should be to determine whether there is a depression. Farmers of enterprise, tact, skill and business capacity are generally prosperous. If the farmers of Kansas, after having their farms given them, hopelessly mired in the same for machinery and teams with which to grow and harvest their crops, is that a depression that the government is responsible for? If farmers of New England and the east are so blind and so sluggish as to still run in the deeply worn ruts of a former generation, is that depression? If the superabundance of productive population annually brings forth crops so bountiful that a bewildering surplus remains above the wants of the people, can we call that depression? Cranks, crankers and political bunnies we shall ever have with us, but in no sense are they fit subjects for congressional investigation."

Not a word could be added to this forcible characterization of the demagoguery that would attempt to manufacture discontent for the purpose of getting a partisan advantage. And it is all the more noteworthy on account of the source from which it comes. The specious arguments of the free trade "reformers" evidently don't count for much with the farmer. He remembers the free wool bull and the wholesale reductions in the agricultural schedule of the Mills bill far too well to take any stock in the promises of the free trade party. Protection is good enough for him, as it was good enough for his fathers in the time of Washington and Jefferson.

England Thred of Free Trade. Colonel Howard Vincent, who has been re-elected to a seat in the house of commons, has a letter in the London Times explaining the causes which led to his election. The issue which gave him the victory, according to this letter, was protection. Great Britain is tired of free trade, says Mr. Vincent, and the lesson of protection in the United States, under which system "the cost of living is less and wages 77 per cent. higher than in Great Britain," has made the English sick of Cobdenite theories. Wages 77 per cent. higher and cost of living actually lower than in England. Just think of it! It's enough to make Cobden, Bright and Adam Smith turn over in their graves, to say nothing of the peculiarly sad visions it must conjure up to the eyes of American Cobdenites.

Cleveland Will Ring the Changes. "The somewhat ambiguous battle cry of tariff reform" is the way in which a prominent Chicago Democratic daily speaks of the Democratic campaign cry of 1888. And yet just what and see how that remarkably honest Mingwump, Grover Cleveland, will ring in the old changes on the same old hackneyed cry of "reform," in his letter of acceptance.

To Be Expected from Free Traders. A list of trusts due to "McKinley pay" is given by the St. Louis Republic in its issue of July 5. Among the alleged trusts is one to control the production of cotton. Cotton is on the free list, and a cotton trust is just about as impossible as a combination among the bakers of bread. This is an item such as one might expect from The Republic.

A Broken Reed, Indeed. This, and no mistake, is the individual whose stamina has waned to such a low ebb, for want of an efficient tonic, that he would certainly topple over and fracture something if a bulky subject, such as a fat wife for instance, were to lean upon him. Build up, be lean, plucky and strong with Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which will enable you to eat and digest heartily, and thus acquire flesh and vigor. The fortitude of the will is of little use to the man who is unable to eat and digest heartily. It is the foundation of all diseases. Nervousness, sleeplessness, biliousness, constipation, malaria, rheumatism and kidney trouble are all curable by this superior restorative of health and vigor. In connection with the use of the Bitters would be well for the diet to be invalid to study the wants of his enfeebled stomach with a view to the selection of the most digestible articles of diet.

$1.50 BOOK FREE!

Special Good News to the Voter.

We offer a Beautiful Bound, Handsomely Printed, Elegantly Illustrated, Copy of "The Life of Ben. Harrison, by the Author of Ben Hur" Absolutely free.

READ AND DO SOME THINKING

The voter cannot cast an intelligent Ballot unless he can appreciate the intricate manipulations of the wheels of government and become conversant to some extent at least with the fundamental facts and theories controlling the various great governmental departments, and he cannot hope to know the character of the chief executive unless he reads an Accurate and Impartial Biography, written and compiled by a Master Litterateur, equal to the difficult task.

Gen. Benjamin Harrison is a candidate for re-election. The Nation demands that the hero who led its armies in the Field, and who for four years has wisely and nobly steered the ship of state through the perils of the future as ably as he has through those of the past. He who during the administration has saved the country from a series of threatening dangers, has brought Italy and Chile to the feet of our Republican throne, and made even England yield to American demands in the Behring Sea difficulty, is the man for the people of these United States.

Gen. Lew Wallace, who is known throughout the United States as one of the most intimate personal friends of President Harrison, and as having had a great deal to do with his re-nomination, has written a biography of the President, which reads like a veritable Romance, yet is Accurate History.

The book has been officially authorized and contributed to by the heads of the government in Articles regarding the workings of the Republican policy and the Present administration. These distinguished contributors include Hon. William E. Curtis, Hon. John W. Foster, Hon. Jeremiah Rusk, Secretary Foster and Hon. Eugene Hale. Their topics include commercial Reciprocity, Postal Service, Progress of the Public Domain, etc.

When General Harrison was asked his choice of a biographer he promptly replied, "My life-long friend, General Wallace." His chief advisors, interpreting the President's desire, have officially supplied the volume with most valuable contributions.
